SYRCL's Wild & Scenic Film Festival and Briarpatch Food Co-op Present "Foodie Films Night"

On Thursday, July 9th, at 7pm SYRCL's Wild & Scenic Film Festival will present a selection of the Festival's past Official Selections in a Live Virtual Event. These food-themed films will be broadcast live online in partnership with BriarPatch Food Coop. This is a free event; donations are welcome. Click the button below to select your tickets; all proceeds benefit SYRCL.

A panel discussion about the organic food industry will feature Michael Funk of UNFI, Izzy Martin of the Sierra Fund, and Amigo Bob of The Felix Gillet Institute. Molly Nakahara and Rachel Berry will participate in a Q&A session after the film Seeding Our Future.

The films being shown are:

Seeding Our Future (10 min) - Sierra Harvest educates, inspires and connects families to fresh, local seasonal foods through farm to school education; training the next generation of farmers and supporting low-income families in growing food at home. Their programs reach 96% of the K-8 students in Western Nevada County. Prepare to get inspired by this regional model of food systems change.

Soil Carbon Cowboys (12 min) - Many people talk about the cattle business as a big environmental problem. Cattle, when properly grazed, offer solutions to soil health, animal health, human health, water supply and food nutrition.

Evolution of Organic (87 min) - Told by those who built the movement, Evolution of Organic is the story of organic agriculture. A motley crew of back-to-the-landers, spiritual seekers and farmers' sons and daughters reject chemical farming and set out to explore organic alternatives. It's a heartfelt journey of change – from a small band of rebels to a cultural transformation in the way we grow and eat food.

What a Relief! - Online Arts Festival to Benefit the Nevada County Artist Relief Fund

To support professional artists in all disciplines whose livelihoods have been devastated by the impacts of COVID-19, Nevada County Arts Council and a coalition of local arts organizations have launched the Nevada County Artist Relief Fund. To help jumpstart donations and raise awareness for the fund, Nevada County Arts Council is presenting an online festival, "What a Relief!", on Saturday, July 18th, from noon to 8:00pm. This event will feature over 40 performances by musicians, artists, and actors on the Nevada County Arts Council YouTube channel and Facebook page.

"Before COVID-19 we could all go downtown any night of the week to experience an array of live music, theatrical and dance performances and film. The pandemic has created a gaping hole in all of lives. This event is a wonderful reminder of how much the arts and local artists mean to us," says Eliza Tudor, Executive Director of the Nevada County Arts Council.

A stunning lineup of artists and arts advocates have been assembled for the event including classical guitarist Gyan Riley, filmmaker and gallerist Cheryl Haines, experimental film pioneer Daniel Reeves, Pulitzer-prize winning poet Forrest Gander, Grammy Award-winning family hip hop musician Secret Agent 23 Skidoo, best-selling author and musician Sands Hall, award-winning performance artist Izzi Tooinsky, renowned visual artist LeeAnn Brook, Community Asian Theater of the Sierra (CATS), poet Maxima Kahn, an array of actors from Sierra Stages, and many more! The list continues to grow each day.

The goal is to raise $40,000 during the online festival. These funds will then be made available for local artists to apply for micro-grants.

Nevada County Arts Council is grateful to the expanding cohort of local arts organizations who are part of the coalition to raise funds for artists. So, far, these include The Miners Foundry Cultural Center in Nevada City, The Center for the Arts in Grass Valley, Music in the Mountains, InConcert Sierra, CATS, Sierra Stages, and Trails and Vistas and InnerRhythms Dance from Truckee.

"It speaks volumes that our longest standing arts organizations – themselves battling to survive and thrive – are so supportive of our artists," says Jon Blinder, Board President at Nevada County Arts Council. "It points to the healthy respect of one part of our sector for another, and the knowledge we all share that the arts have a critical role to play in driving our economy beyond COVID-19. What's good for the arts is good for us all!"

Artist Relief Fund

Arts events, concerts, and productions have been cancelled in venues across the county due to the effects of COVID-19 - and professional artists whose livelihoods are dependent on these events are facing insurmountable losses.

In response, Nevada County Arts Council has formed a coalition of local arts organizations to create an emergency initiative to offer financial and informational resources to artists within Nevada County.

Now is the time to give back to our artists who contribute so much to the quality of our lives and the wellbeing of our community. Funds will be distributed as micro relief grants to eligible artists once our fund has reached a critical level.

PLEASE GIVE GENEROUSLY! Your tax-deductible donation goes directly toward the support of professional artists in all disciplines whose livelihoods have been affected by the public health crisis.

"What I Make of My Space" Online Exhibition

"What I Make Of My Space" is an online exhibition prompted by global guidance to "shelter in place" at the beginning of the COVID-19 public health crisis.

The "Call to All" invited visual and written reflections on spaces that hold meaning for individuals around the world. Artists were asked whether these spaces had been easy to inhabit, or simply places of confinement, and they were asked to provide their unique personal perspectives during this challenging moment in our history. Several submissions responding to themes of racial injustice were submitted and these are also included in the exhibition.

The exhibition is directed by Nevada County Arts Council Artist in Residence, Ruth Chase. This is Ruth's third curated project for Nevada County Arts, and - common to each of her projects - carries a special aim of having artists and "non-artists" exhibiting side by side. Ruth believes that well-curated work can take the elitism out of an exhibition and bring quality work - and people - together.

We invite you to explore the work of these artists from around the world:
